

REDS CHASING NAZIS IN DONETS BASIN

Meandering Along the Main Stem By WASH FAYETTE

Here's a variation of the Mother Goose rhyme "Ding dong bell, pussy's in the well." Only this time it was a black pussy with a white stripe down the middle of its back.

An unfortunate farmer in Essex County, N. Y. wrote to his farm adviser: "A skunk got in my well. Although I have emptied the well 15 times and cleaned it, the water still is not palatable. Is there any remedy?"

Whereupon he was advised: "Sprinkle a can or two of chloride of lime and four ounces of potassium permanganate into the well. After three or four days, pump the well dry three or four times—or till the taste of the chlorine is almost gone—and then hang a burlap bag of charcoal in the well. That should do the job; if not, repeat the operation."

As a consoling after thought the adviser wrote: "It's hard luck for you, but remember, it was a fatal accident for the skunk."

Writing from some of the more or less barren spots of the earth, some of our Fayette County boys in the armed forces have declared that they long for the "green fields of Ohio."

A great many of you folks who have not traveled extensively may not be aware of the fact that there are vast areas of the earth, including a great deal of western U. S. and Canada, almost barren and to be stationed at camps in such areas naturally brings a longing for the beautiful green fields of the Buckeye state.

Have you ever made it a point to look about you right here in Fayette County with green fields of corn, grass and other crops, just as far as the eye can see, with patches of woodland sticking high above the sea of green? It is a beautiful sight, and it is no wonder that the boys who are stationed in areas that lack abundant vegetation, recall these wonderful green fields and long for the sight of them once more.

Victory gardens have saved Fayette County residents thousands of dollars this year, and, combined with Victory gardens throughout United States, have gone far toward helping solve the vegetable problem and win the war.

During a recent extensive rail trip, I noticed how nearly every family had a vegetable garden, with indications that the gardens were larger than usual and more numerous than since the first World War.

Victory gardens have been providing the finest type of vegetables, thus assuring an abundance of garden produce and adding to the health of the owners.

Not only have these Victory gardens been providing food for several months and will continue to do so until frost, but great quantities of vegetables have been and will be packed to help provide food through the winter at a time when there is urgent need of home packing of vegetables to meet the food situation.

School starts Tuesday... which brings a thought for the safety of the children. The school stop lights which have been off all summer will be on again so if you've been passing them regularly without notice, be sure to watch from now on and observe traffic rules. Incidentally, it might be well to caution the children, too, to be careful of traffic for no matter how cautious a driver may be he has no control over a child who dashes across traffic or rides a bike through a red light. Let's go slowly... use every care... give in to the other fellow if necessary and PREVENT ACCIDENTS.

CLAYTON, N. Y., Sept. 2—(P)—The 19 German war prisoners who escaped from Ft. Henry, Kingston, Ont., last Thursday are back in custody.

The last three of the group were captured in an apple orchard near this northern New York community yesterday, Police Chief James Stage announced, by George W. Gale, Jr., an immigration border patrolman, and turned over to Canadian authorities.

DANES REFUSE TO COLLABORATE WITH GERMANS BUT CONTINUE SABOTAGE—REVOLTS DIMINISHING

Eric Scavenius, Only Political Leader in Country Not Arrested, Declines To Form New Government Under Nazi Military Dictatorship

By JOHN H. COLBURN

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 2—(P)—Eric Scavenius, Danish prime minister who resigned his post when Germany clamped a military dictatorship on Denmark last week end, has declined an offer by the Nazis to form a new government, Danish refugees said today.

Scavenius, one of the few Danish political leaders to escape arrest following Sunday's bloody revolt, had been asked to head a new cabinet by Gen. Hermann Van Hanneken, Nazi military dictator. Other members of the cabinet who resigned in a body with Scavenius, refused even to meet the Germans to discuss the situation, the refugees reported.

Danish refugees arriving here said that for the first time in more than 10 days no German soldiers were seen patrolling Copenhagen streets and that disorders appeared to be diminishing under the rigid controls set up by the Germans.

Sabotage was said to be continuing, though on a scale smaller than that of a week ago, and industrial slowdowns were reported prevalent throughout the country despite all German efforts to speed up production.

Several refugees reported that the Germans had ended strikes at Helsingør and Elsinore Monday by threatening to shoot every tenth worker.

Other refugees reaching Sweden in steadily fewer numbers said they had difficulty in getting through the German patrols. They added that the Germans shoot at boats which fail to turn back to Denmark and one Dane related the Nazi plane pilots even shot refugees who had reached Swedish territorial waters.

So far, Sweden has given asylum to nearly 500 Danes, all of whom are regarded as political refugees.

One refugee asserted that Werner Best, German minister to Denmark, was still at the head of the civil authority.

Von Hanneken's reported attempt to win over Scavenius followed by a few hours the resignation of Johan C. W. Kruse from

Question Mark Put On Jap War By Attack On Marcus Island

U. S. Navy Raid May Have Been Feint on Start of Knockout Blow for Occupation—Vulnerable Hole Could Be Cut in Defenses of Japan Proper, Experts Theorize

By TOM REEDY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2—(P)—The big unanswered question in the Pacific today was whether the daring U. S. navy raid on Marcus Island in Japan's home waters was a feint or a well-aimed knockout punch.

Japan could use the answer to that riddle, right now.

Three possibilities emerged from the meager accounts of the spectacular raid:

1—The carrier task force which bombed and shelled the island may have been preparing the way for occupation. It's not a big place but in United States hands it could serve as an outpost that would harry Japan's communications with the south Pacific.

2—The attack could have been a feint to cover some highly important move elsewhere, conceivably occupation of Wake Island, or a drive on the vital Japanese positions in the Kuriles.

3—The navy may have moved in for a slashing hit-run blow for its psychological effect, alone.

Woman Surrenders With Confession, But Police Say She Is Drunk

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2—(P)—A taxicab driver brought to police headquarters today a 27-year-old woman who, he said, had told him she wanted to give herself up as the slayer of Corporal Maoma L. Ridings, 32-year-old Atterbury WAC.

Detectives, although skeptical of the woman's story, questioned her closely. She gave her name

Plenty of Beef This Fall But Little Later, Prospect

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2—(P)—With unprecedented numbers of livestock fattened for early slaughtering, the government cleared the tracks today for movement of more meat to civilians.

A War Food Administration (WFA) order lifted until Oct. 31 all quota limitations on the slaughter of livestock for civilian consumption save the requirement that federally-inspected slaughterers set aside 40 percent of their weekly beef production for armed forces and war essential output.

The meaning, according to WFA: For the next two months meat ration coupons should be good anywhere in the country.

The order followed publication of a department of agriculture forecasts that 1943 food production would run 5 percent higher than last year's record harvest.

This overall figure was predicted despite an estimated 9 percent decline in food crops, which the WFA said would be more than offset by production of 24 billion pounds of beef and increased chicken and egg production.

Meat quotas were instituted during low production months to assure sufficient quantities for the armed forces and export needs as well as an equal distribution of the civilian supply.

SOVIET POLICY STILL MYSTERY

Roosevelt and Churchill Resume War Talks Without Word from Stalin

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2—(P)—In the easy atmosphere of a semi-social visit Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt settled down to a discussion of war-generated political problems today while official Washington awaited some on-the-record response from Russia to Anglo-American overtures for a three-power conference this year.

Despite all that the President and the Prime Minister have said about meeting Russia there still was no indication from Moscow as to whether the suggestion was considered favorable there, nor was there much concrete evidence in Washington thus far of success in arranging a preliminary get-together of top diplomats of the three governments.

The need for closer coordination among the three most powerful Allied nations thus remained the number one political problem pointed up by the recent Anglo-American conference in Quebec and obviously held open for further discussion in Washington.

Mr. Churchill arrived from Quebec late yesterday.

CHILLICOTHEAN ELECTED ELK ASSOCIATION HEAD

CEDAR POINT, Sept. 1—(P)—Robert W. Dunkle, Republican state representative from Chillicothe, is the newly-elected president of the Ohio Elks' Association. He succeeds Walter G. Henry of Delaware. Joseph Fitzgerald of Canton was named first vice president and Harry Hale of Newark was reelected secretary.

BATTERED ARMY OF INVADERS IS IN FULL FLIGHT

Alibi Is That Hitler Taking Troops Out To Meet Allied Threat of Attack

RUSSIA REFUTES CLAIMS

Pincers Being Tightened on Japs in New Guinea as Salamaua Under Siege

By ROGER GREENE

(By the Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler's battered armies were fleeing the rich Donets basin in southern Russia today and Berlin military circles attempted to alibi the retreat by asserting that greater forces were needed in the west to meet an expected invasion of Europe.

All along the 600-mile southern front, stretching from Smolensk to Tagerog, the Red armies were pushing their triumphant reconquest of the Ukraine.

Soviet headquarters said the Russians punched out gains of four to seven and one-half miles, engulfed hundreds of villages including 300 in the Smolensk-Bryansk sector alone, and killed 6,000 Germans.

"The enemy is bringing up his reserves and throwing them into counterattacks straight from the march," the Soviet war bulletin said.

Summarizing the battle of Tagerog—the greatest single German defeat since last winter's disaster at Stalingrad—the Russians announced that more than 35,000 Nazis were killed, 5,100 taken prisoner and eight German divisions totaling 120,000 troops were routed.

Other World Events

JAPAN—Official silence veils developments in daring U. S. Navy attack on Marcus Island, hint may be feint to cover important move elsewhere; Tokyo says 160 American planes hit outpost in Japan's home waters, admits "some damage."

SOLOMON ISLANDS—U. S. heavy artillery opens fire on Japanese stronghold on Kolombangara Island; air scouts report Japanese may have staged "Kiska evacuation" of Santa Isabel Island.

NEW GUINEA—Japanese resistance crumbling in siege of Salamaua, enemy rearwards falter under Allied blows.

ITALY—Allied raiders blast Naples area with two-ton bombs, rip communications in southern Italy.

DENMARK — Danish prime minister scorns Nazi bid to form new government; rigid German controls crush revolt but Danes continue sabotage and industrial slowdowns.

WASHINGTON — Capital awaits Moscow reply on Anglo-American overtures for three-power conference; Moscow silent.

Nazis in Red Trap

On the Russian front, tens of thousands of German troops hastily retreating from the Donets river basin were threatened with entrapment between Russian columns advancing along the Sea of Azov and other Soviet forces lunging into the Ukraine farther north.

YANKS PLUNGE WOUNDED BOMBERS INTO TARGETS

MIAMI, Fla.—Tech. Sgt. Frank B. Kozak of Carbondale, Pa., arrived in the United States today with a gripping story of how the crews of two big, four-engined Liberator bombers sacrificed their planes and lives by deliberately diving into Ploesti oil field targets, causing tremendous explosions and fires.

GERMAN RADIO WARNS INVASION COMING

LONDON—In a series of nervous broadcasts, Axis radio commentators declared today the Allies were massing vast invasion armadas both in the Mediterranean and in Britain for a two-directional continental assault which might be sprung at any moment.

FIRES STILL BURNING IN BERLIN

STOCKHOLM—Swiss dispatches said today that 450 fires were still burning in Berlin after Tuesday night's RAF blockbuster raid and that estimates of the dead ran as high as 5,000.

7,500 CASUALTIES IN SICILY CONQUEST

WASHINGTON—Army losses in the 38-day conquest of Sicily numbered 7,500 killed, wounded and missing to bring the army's over-all war losses to 70,872 and lift the announced casualties for the armed services and merchant marine to 105,446 since Pearl Harbor.

GASOLINE PROSPECT IN EAST IS DARK

Midwest Motorists Going 'On Borrowed Time'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2—(P)—The prospect of dry gasoline pumps in the east "in a matter of days" was raised today by Interior Secretary Ickes who said trouble lay ahead for the entire nation unless motoring is held to essential travel.

Ickes, war fuel administrator, said in a radio speech last night that:

The east has more gasoline ration coupons than it has gas quota, and is using them. Consumption has been exceeding the 342,000 barrels allotted daily for civilian use by anywhere from 30,000 to 35,000 barrels.

The southwest and midwest are "living on borrowed time" as far as gasoline is concerned.

Yank Bomber Crew Gets Seven Japs Attacking Buddies In Parachutes

By ART BURGESS

GUADALCANAL, Aug. 20.—(Delayed)—(P)—Thanks to Lieut. Homer W. Faucett, 1941 National AAU middleweight wrestling champion from Indiana, and the gallant crew of his Liberator bomber, the Japanese have paid dearly for firing on American fliers dangling helplessly in parachutes.

It happened after today's smashing raid by four-engined Liberators and escorting Lightning fighters on Japan's Kahlil airdrome on Bougainville in the Solomons. The total bag of Japanese planes for the day was 37.

But Faucett and his companions supplied some of the most dramatic moments on the trip back. Near Vella Lavella Island, one of the Liberators was hit by pursuing Zeros. Four men parachuted from the stricken bomber. Twenty Zeros went after the descending fliers, their guns blazing.

Lieutenant Faucett, 25, whose hometown is Hillsboro, Ind., was in a nearby formation of bombers.

"I checked with the crew first on the inter-phone, talking with every man," Faucett said.

"Pilot to turret gunner: Shall we go back?"

"Turret gunner to pilot: Let's go back!"

It was that way in each case. "All well knew there was a strong probability we would never come back," Faucett continued.

"When we turned back, one man in a chute was hanging limp after a Zero strafed him. Our gunner drove off another Zero trying the same dirty trick. Then 20 Zeros started working

47 PETITIONS ARE NOW FILED FOR ELECTION

Friday Deadline for Filing
Petitions for Fall
Campaign

Forty-seven petitions for candidacy in the various positions to be filed in the election here this fall have been filed with the Board of Elections in the Court House, Robert Meriweather, clerk of the board, said Wednesday. The last day for filing petitions is Friday, when the board's office will remain open until 6:30 P. M., he added.

One petition has been filed for the three positions open on the city council, Meriweather said, adding that four petitions for the three vacancies on the city board of education are filed now. Two petitions are filed for the county board of education.

Petitions have been filed for only six of the 11 district boards of education; one for Wayne rural, two for Madison rural, one for Jeffersonville village, two each for Marion and Perry rural and one for Bloomingburg village.

Paint Township is the only one in which petitions for township trustee have not been filed. Union, Concord, Marion, Perry, Madison, Green and Jasper townships have had one petition each filed while four have been filed in Jefferson Township and two in Wayne.

One petition for township clerk has been filed for each township except Concord, Jasper, Paint and Wayne.

A complete ticket for positions open in Bloomingburg was filed, with two petitions for mayor, one for clerk, one for treasurer, and six for council. An additional petition for council in Bloomingburg, also was filed.

One petition for justice of the peace in Jefferson Township has been filed.

The board of elections at first declined to give out the names of the candidates who have filed nominating petitions until after all are in by the deadline Friday evening. Later, after a call to the secretary of state's office, it was indicated the decision would be changed but it was impossible to get the board together for action. Two of the board members explained that they interpreted the law as prohibiting release of names until after the petitions had been approved.

Finland's eight political parties held separate meetings today to discuss privately the critical foreign policy and agitation for a separate peace with Russia.

A showdown on foreign policy may come tomorrow when criticism will be leveled in Parliament against the present policy, but neither diplomatic nor political observers expected any immediate change in Finland's position of being a co-belligerent of Germany.

It will be the first general discussion of foreign policy since November, 1941, when the Finns, aided by the Germans, drove the Russians out of territory they had taken after the winter war and Moscow peace of 1940.

as Marie Simpson. She was charged with drunkenness and vagrancy.

The taxicab driver said the woman, accompanied by a 19-year-old boy and a deaf mute, entered his cab in the downtown district and the woman asked to be taken to police headquarters.

Officials also questioned the boy, but released the deaf mute. Investigators in the brutal hotel slaying of Corp. Ridings said they were entertaining a theory the crime was committed by more than one person "in a moment of blind fury." They did not elaborate.

Lieut. Noel Jones of the city detectives said authorities were intensifying their search for a "woman in black" whom a bellboy said he saw in Corporal Ridings' room a short time before she was found slain Saturday night. Miss Ridings' home was in Warm Springs, Ga.

Detectives continued to hold under $2,500 bond, on a vagrancy charge, Robert Wolfington, 22, another bellboy of the hotel.

Detective Sergeant Fae Davis, seeking continuance of the vagrancy charge in municipal court yesterday, told Judge John L. McNelis that Wolfington "definitely is a suspect of first-degree murder."

PLENTY OF BEEF NOW BUT LITTLE LATER IS CATTLEMEN'S BELIEF

grass-fat steers in the next six weeks—and a famine next spring—is forecast by cattlemen from 24 states, meeting today to advance a new meat management plan.

Visitors include three governors, 17 congressmen and Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York. Nearly 2,000 cattlemen are assembling to settle details of the new federal meat policy they hope congress will be able to obtain for them.

"Government policies on food are so confusing that feeders are refusing to buy the flood of steers, which are being slaughtered only pasture-fat," says Frank S. Boice of Sonoita, Ariz., president of the American National Livestock Association.

The objective livestock men hope to accomplish is balancing the supply of meat animals against available feed, and producing meat when and where it is needed.

President Boice said the government is missing the significance of the present run of grass-fat cattle. Eighty percent of the 30,000 animals arriving here Monday were suitable for feeders who in six months would add 360 pounds to each steer, he explained.

Instead, the steers are being slaughtered, with a potential loss of millions of pounds of beef—"in other words, we may have a glut of beef this fall, but we will have a famine in the spring."

Boice said most livestock and feed men believe the meat management plan developed by the livestock and meat industry would be the answer to many of their problems.

Under this plan, which would have a flexible scale for meat point values, price regulations would be eliminated, with the readily moveable point values intended to regulate demand and thus establish prices to the consumer.

The government first would take all the meat if needed.

MANDALAY AND BURMA HIT BY YANK BOMBERS

NEW DELHI, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Liberator bombers of the U. S. Tenth air force dumped a "great weight" of explosives on the railway yards at Mandalay yesterday, it was announced today in a headquarters communique which said "excellent results were reported with numerous hits in the target area."

While the four-engined Liberators concentrated on Mandalay, twin-engined B-25 Mitchells attacked Japanese rail installations and communications in other parts of central Burma.

65,000 NAZIS LOST IN SEIZING NORWAY

At Least, Germans Demand
That Many Pensions

LONDON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The Germans lost 65,000 men killed or disabled in their invasion of Norway in 1940, Rear Admiral Hjalmar Riiser-Larsen, chief of the Norwegian air force, declared today.

At the end of the campaign, the admiral said, the Germans demanded that the Norwegians pay pensions to the widows and dependents of the Nazi soldiers killed or wounded in the invasion, Norway promptly agreed.

"I am surprised that you accepted," said the German general who transmitted the demand. "Not at all," replied the Norwegian official with whom the general was dealing. "Hitler has announced that you lost only 1,163 killed and wounded. We can afford to pay pensions for them."

The Germans, Riiser-Larsen

said, thereupon dropped their demands.

Discharged Veteran Appeals

TOLEDO, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A local draft board today considered the first reported formal Ohio complaint by a discharged war veteran that his former employer refused to restore him to his old job.

Eugene Melick, who filed the complaint yesterday, told Selective Service officials the company claimed it could not give him his old job although it could give him work at 15 cents less an hour.

Melick was given a medical discharge from the army because of a foot injury and was ordered to work in a warplant.

The Selective Service act assures ex-servicemen their same, corresponding or better jobs with the full seniority rights and ratings they enjoyed prior to their entrance into the service.

LISBON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Premier Antonio De Oliveira Salazar stated today that Portugal's stepped-up military preparations were defensive but "in the unfortunate times in which we are living may have to be used against foreign enemies as much as against internal elements or national disintegration."

Clamping a tight censorship on speculation regarding the military preparations, Dr. Salazar cautioned against expecting any change in the country's foreign policy.

(The London Evening Standard interpreted the mobilization" of Portugal as a possible indication the country was ready to declare war on Japan in protest against Japanese atrocities at Macao and Timor.)

THE FOOD OUTLOOK
Hardly a day goes by but what someone here in Washington C. H. is heard worrying over the food situation for the coming winter. Other communities doubtless are hearing the same thing. From all that has been heard there may be reason for this and again there may not be sufficient cause to justify all the propaganda that has come out of Washington and other places.

Anyway, those who have been worrying about where three meals a day are coming from this winter have reason to take heart. The War Food Administration now says there will be plenty to eat. This confident assumption is a challenge to the direful predictions of the drought, the shortage of farm labor and machinery and the report of Secretary of Agriculture Wickard's food investigating committee. It is based on the Bureau of Agricultural Economics' usually reliable August crop report, and on the proposed allocation of the 1943 crop among civilians, armed services and food-shy citizens of other nations.

The WFA's facts and figures add up to this outlook: This year's crop, barring some unforeseen calamity, will be 31 per cent greater than the average crop for 1935-39 and 5 percent above the record-breaking 1942 crop. It will be distributed as follows: 75 percent to civilians, 13 percent to the armed forces, 10 percent to lend-lease and two percent to others. "Others" include United States territories, South and Central America, the American Red Cross and allocations to the Office of Relief and Rehabilitation Organization not covered by lend-lease.

This greatest potential crop in our history does not meet our full needs, or assure civilians that they will have their favorite foods. But it removes the possibility of critical shortages, at least as far as supply is concerned. For if you multiply our 131 percent crop for 1943 by the 75 percent which is the civilian share, you get 98.25 percent of the per capita consumption in 1935-39.

In fact, the per-capita picture is even rosier than the 98.25 view. For the crop report does not take into account the victory gardens that more than 70 percent of American families have grown this summer, nor the fact, that with some 8,000,000 men and women in uniform, there are fewer civilians to be fed than in the well-nourished years of the norm.

Even though we eat nearly as much as we did in peacetime, the balance of our diet this year will be different. We shall find less meat and butter and other dairy products, and less processed fruits and vegetables, unless we have home-canned them. But we shall have a more abundant supply of fats and oils, and of cereal grains.

Nowhere, however, are these shortages alarming. Each of us, WFA predicts, will eat from two to six less pounds of meat in the year ending June 30, 1944, than we did in the average pre-war year; four pounds less butter and 32 pounds less of other dairy products.

tic, how they will pay for it—it not explained by WFA. Rationing and price control are the business of OPA, not of this semi-independent branch of the Agriculture Department. But WFA does provide figures to show that food costs rose 53 percent from August, 1939, to May of this year and that they are up 13 percent from Sept. 15, 1942, the starting line of the Stabilization Act.

WFA figures also include the information that farmers this June were receiving 113 percent more for their crops than they were four years ago, while their living and production costs, including interest and taxes have gone up only 34 percent.

But anyway, there is going to be plenty of food this winter. Maybe you will ask for a head of lettuce and get cabbage instead, but that isn't shortage. You will get three squares a day of one sort or another.

And maybe it won't be so hard to pay for it, either. For Chester Bowles, OPA's new general manager, says he is going to have the cost of living back to September, 1942 levels "faster than most people think."

MUCH YET TO DO
The recent achievement of our air force in shooting down over 200 Japanese planes in the Pacific will ease the task of reconquering the lost islands. But its effect should not be exaggerated.

Two hundred planes is a lot, but in the thousands that the Japanese possess, it does not make much of a dent. A good many times 200 will have to be destroyed before we can make real headway.

Washington at a Glance By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—The House Civil Service Committee, headed by Robert Ramspeck (D-Ga.) is hopping mad.
In its extensive investigation of the government employee set-up, it finally has come around to the report-card system. Once each year, all federal government employees are subjected to what is known as the "Report of Efficiency Rating."
Each of now more than 3,000,000 employees (exclusive of armed forces personnel) receive these report cards, they can be fired, promoted, demoted or given salary raises on the basis of their "efficiency ratings." This applies to every one from charwomen to $10,000-a-year executives.
Three copies of the "efficiency ratings" have to be filed. That means over 9,000,000 sheets of good stock white paper. Just short of a million copies of the 32-page "Efficiency Rating Manual" have to be issued, which means tons more of precious paper, thousands of man-hours spent in reading, preparing and tabulating the reports, and probably millions of dollars a year lost to the taxpayers.
Members of the Ramspeck committee, who cannot now be quoted by name, already are saying that the next session of Congress will positively pass a law to shear off reams of this needless red tape.
The "Efficiency Rating Report" gives the so-called rating official (always the person who is one jump out of his underling's job) the privilege of making a check, minus, or plus after such queries as how their hiring is doing; "attention to Board Phases of Assignments; Attention to Pertinent Details; Accuracy of Operations; Accuracy of Final Results."
The "check" means adequate; the minus mark, weak; the plus, outstanding.
Just how are you going to explain by those definitions a floor-mopper's "attention to the board phases of his assignment," or where the difference comes between the accuracy of operation?

War's Effect on Children
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.
IN THE PRESENT upset condition of the food supply, food rationing and food distribution, there is one cardinal point everyone must keep in mind. Let us take care of the children. What happens to those from the age of twenty to forty is important, but it can be compensated. What happens to those of my generation is hardly important at all. But the children are our future, and malnutrition in childhood throws a long shadow over future generations.

Of course, no such threat hangs over us in this country yet. And we have no accurate studies of the German, European and Russian childhood nutritional situation in this war. But we have sufficient data from the last war to give us an everlasting lesson.

Blanton studied the entire school population of a German city near the war zone in 1919. The food blockade had not yet been lifted. The children were getting for breakfast some unmilled rye and marmalade of turnips and beet molasses. At noon and the evening meal, war soup (with no fat), perhaps bread.
Infections Common
Their weight and strength was low, infections were common, but the frightening thing was the mental condition of the children. Comprehension of lessons was sluggish or absent, they had no initiative, they had fatigue and restlessness. Children from prosperous households were strikingly better in their lessons and mental alertness.
About 8 per cent of the childhood population suffered from serious nervous disorders, attributable to malnutrition. For the first two years of the war the weight of new born babies showed no change, but from the third year on their weight fell from 50 to 100 grams on the average.
The death rates for infants in Germany was 169 in every 1,000 in 1914, and 210 in 1915. In Munich, testing children for tuberculosis in 1914, 43 per cent were positive reactions, in 1915, 63 per cent.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
J. M.—I have a chronic infection in the colon. I have used B complex, diets, but it doesn't get any better. Can a sulfa drug solution be used?
Answer: It depends on the cause of the infection. In some cases a sulfa preparation, sulfaguanidine, is valuable. If it is due to amebic dysentery, on the other hand, other drugs should be used.

J. L. R.—What is the degree of contagiousness of leprosy? I had a friend who visited a leper colony in the tropics. Could it be picked up by handling of articles touched by a leper?
Answer: Leprosy is only slightly contagious. Like tuberculosis, it probably is acquired only in childhood except in rare instances. I have visited seven leper sanitariums without any feeling of fear.

Leave My Heart Alone
ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES
CHAPTER FORTY-EIGHT
WHEN KAREN stopped her roadster before Marty's trailer, and she told him bluntly that she had come to see him and to tell him something since he would not come to see her, he had a ready answer. "As usual."
"I was coming to see you—before I went away," he said, leaning his elbows on the door of the car, grinning down at her. His blond hair was all rumpled in the soft warm breeze, his lean face, now coppery from the sun, was almost handsome with its stern jaw and humorous mouth and eyes so incredibly blue; he did not need brass buttons or gold braid, his khaki-colored, casual clothes became him.
"Before you went away," Karen repeated, her heart turning over. She had known he must, but yet she had hoped against hope that it would not have to be.
He nodded. "I go wherever I'm sent, you know, milady, sometimes to the far corners of the earth. This job is finished, but there'll be plenty of others."
"You did a good job, Marty," she wanted him to know she was proud of him. "Imagine your being such a good detective! Now I know why you claimed to know all about me, and I suspect you simply cultivated my friendship in order to obtain more information."
"What other reason could I have had?" His tone was mocking, his eyes teasing. "As for the detective part, that was easy. I knew as soon as I found that fresh supply of matches in the tower room that night that my suspicions were justified. I knew, too, that old Jan was not obeying your orders about locking the tunnel. Of course he was only obeying orders under threat of death, or worse, for his relatives in Germany. It was the others we really were after, and I suspected they were using your tunnel for a meeting place, which was why it was not a safe place for you to be, Kay."
"I see it was not now," Karen said. "It will be kept locked from now on, I promise you."
"Things will be different from now on," Marty told her. "Our ships will sail only in large convoys. The beaches will be patrolled by the Coast Guard. Immigration officers will be on guard at every bridge to demand identification from everyone who crosses them. All these things take time and patience, but they will be worked out, just as it will take time to win this war, but we will win it."
"Thanks to the unknown soldier like yourself," Karen said. "I know what you meant about every man's not being able to wear a uniform. Your part is just as important, just as big; it starts long before one's country is actually in the fight and goes on long afterward."
"It's every man's war," Marty agreed. "And every woman's and every child's. But I want to thank you, Kay, for believing in me before you knew all these things."
"How could I help believing in you?" Her eyes looked into his. Surely he could see all that was written in them.
"It would have been just as easy for you to have thought the worst of me." His eyes smiled back into hers, but only for a brief moment. He removed his elbows from the top of the door, straightened up. "I should ask you to come in, to play the part of a good host and to show my gratitude. But the place is in a mess, much too untidy to entertain a lady in, because I'm packing up."
"When will you learn that I am not such a grand lady as you try to make out? You told me once when I visited your trailer that you knew you had been wrong about that. You even told me I was quite human and ordinary. It's too silly, Marty, the way you try to pretend that we belong to different worlds, you and I."
"You belong not only in a different world, but to another man," he reminded. His tone no longer held its mocking note, his blue eyes were serious.
In answer to that, Karen held out her hand, the hand on which that magnificent ring no longer glittered.
"What does that mean—you're not wearing your ring? Remember I told you you ought never be without it."
"I shan't wear it ever again. I'm not engaged to Paul. We aren't going to be married." Now Marty would know she was free. Would he freedom mean anything to him? He was not trying to help her much, if it did.
"I knew that guy would be too late," Marty tried to manage a quizzical grin, but it was not quite convincing. "He never should have let you postpone that wedding date. I said, 'He who hesitates is lost.'"
"It wasn't that," Karen broke in. She would let Marty have it the way it really had been. "Paul is going to marry someone else. He was never in love with me. I was only a sort of habit, I guess. Every one took it for granted we were so right for one another that I guess I thought that was all that was necessary. I thought, too, that my dad wanted me to marry Paul. Of course I was very fond of him—I still am. But I never was in love with him. I know that now."
"Why are you telling all this to me?" Marty asked. He did not look at her; his tone was gruff.
He not only would not help her, but he was making it as hard for her as he could. Maybe he would have liked to have made her angry, as he so often had, but he could not do that now. "You ought to know why," she returned. "A detective like you! There still are a few things I don't quite get, but I'll take them on faith, too. I don't know why you pretend to be so afraid of me, why you asked me to leave your heart alone."
"You ought to know the answers," he interrupted. "You know what my work is, that it takes me anywhere and everywhere, that it is often dangerous as well as slow, precarious as well as exciting. It will not end until this war is over, maybe not even then."
"I told you I am proud of the work you do." She supposed he was trying to tell her that it was work a woman could not share and that this was a time when a man ought not ask a woman to wait for him. But Karen thought the woman should make those decisions, as once she had told Paul. "Is there something more?" she asked him. "Another mystery, Marty? Another woman? You may think I have no right to ask, no pride, but you did not leave MY heart alone. You took me in your arms, you kissed me."
"I asked you to forget all that." His tone was brusque, his forehead creased with his fierce scowl. "I told you I was sorry. Of course there's no mystery, no other woman."
"That was all Karen wanted to know. If there was no one else, he could not deny what he would not admit. Her heart did leap high, her pulses raced, as only he could make them. "You're not sorry, Marty. How could you be, when it meant so much, when we found we belonged together, when you know you love me, as I love you—which, by the way, was the something I had to tell you."
"You took a long enough time doing it." He took a long step that brought him to the side of her car once more. The scowl began to vanish so that the grin that was Marty's own could take its place, "I took a long time!"
"Yes, you, you heart breaker! You know I fell in love with you the minute I saw you when you threatened to turn me over to the police and gave me exactly three minutes to get out of your life."
"You didn't try very hard to stay in my life! You would have let me marry Paul without so much as lifting a finger."
"I was never worried about him. He was too good to be true. Paul would make a model husband, but such a boring one. I told you the night of the Festival that I would be his substitute. I told you all along I'd be the lucky guy on hand to catch you when you finally did faint."
"Then why don't you do something about it?" Karen demanded. Her shining eyes looked deep into his, so direct, so honest. "I suppose I'll have to be the one to ask you to give me your heart and hand, my hero. I suppose I'll have to lead you hand-cuffed to the altar. Just as I suppose I'll have to ask you now to kiss me."
"You don't have to ask that." Marty leaned over the door and gathered her in his arms, against his heart, his lips seeking hers. "This is one engagement, one marriage you won't get out of, Karen Bell!"

Troops in India Get Fresh Chow Now

AN AMERICAN BASE IN INDIA
—A big United States Army truck rolled into this camp across the hot Indian plains. The thermometer had been stuck above 100 degrees for days, the air dripped with moisture of a nearby monsoon.
Inside the truck, it was 20 degrees above zero. But more important for the soldiers who gathered around, inside the truck were all so fresh beef, vegetables, and 10 gallons of chocolate ice cream!
The men at this base had been eating out of cans for days. Uncanned food spoils in a matter of hours here, and there is no ice. But thanks to the ingenuity of a young American Army lieutenant, this refrigerator truck and ten like it are plying the roads out of one American base with fresh food.
The officer is First Lieut. B. G. Patterson, quartermaster corps, of Army Service Forces. Back home in New Jersey, he and his brother ran a frozen food plant. Here in India, he has taken a stock of old iron pipe, a pile of junk, the rusted remnants of what once was an ice plant, and built a modern refrigerator plant from the ground up.
In it, the quartermaster corps stores fresh produce—and one room is an ice cream plant. When Patterson investigated, he found there was only one refrigerator car on all the railways in India. Religious scruples against packing meat prevented the building of more cars.

From where I sit...
by Joe Marsh
We were sittin' on Bill Webster's back porch Saturday complainin' of the heat.
"Reckon this is the hottest day on record," Homer Bentley observes. "And the thirstiest," says Bill, taking a long draught of buttermilk.
That got us on the subject of thirst-quenchers—and Bill allowed as how nothing was as cooling as a tall, cold glass of buttermilk. Thad Phibbs and I both voted for a glass o' cool refreshing beer. Dan Miles said he'd take iced tea, "with a sprig o' mint in it."
"Anyway," says Bill, "we all got a right to our own tastes... and that ought to leave everybody happy."
And from where I sit, Bill's right. It's a small point of course—but tolerance of what the other fellow likes—and his right to enjoy it—whether it's buttermilk or beer—is the important thing in any argument.

All-Day Meeting Held at Grace M. E. Church Observes Church Day, Wednesday

One hundred women attended the all-day church meeting held Wednesday at the Grace Methodist Church and a most delightful and entertaining day was enjoyed.

During the morning from 11 A. M. to 12:30 P. M. a business session was held in the Sunday School rooms and was conducted by the president, Mrs. Frank Blessing. Group singing of "Oh, Master Let Me Walk With Thee," opened the meeting, following which a morning meditation service was given by Mrs. Frank Blessing. Miss Marian Christopher then gave a very beautiful piano solo. Devotional services were then conducted by Mrs. D. H. Rowe on the subject of "Prayer."

Mrs. Frank Blessing then made the following announcements: The third birthday celebration of the organization of the WSCS will be observed September 15 at Grace Methodist Church. Sixteen circles of this society will hold joint meetings. Three circles having the largest percentage of attendance will be presented with a comforter donated for this by Mrs. Frank Blessing. An out-of-town speaker will be present. The Ministerial Fall Conference will be held at Bowersville, September 23 and the WSCS District Conference will be held on November 11. The meeting place will be announced later. The theme for next year's study was announced as being "The Lord's Song In a Strange Land."

Following the morning session, a covered dish luncheon was served in the church basement, with Circle No. 5 as hostesses. In the afternoon, beginning at 1:30, Mrs. Arch O. Riber was in charge of the program, and a very interesting and entertaining program was presented during the remainder of the afternoon.

The topic for the afternoon's study was "The Christian Task in Cuba and Puerto Rico." Those speaking on the topic of Cuba were Miss Edith Gardner, Mrs. Frank Christopher and Mrs. B. E. Kelley. All responded with very enlightening and interesting highlights of that country and its people and customs.

Those speaking on the topic of Puerto Rico were Mrs. Robert Meriweather, Mrs. Jean Nisley, Miss Margaret Ashley and Mrs. Tom Bush.

Following these a current event discussion was conducted by Mrs. Frank Blessing. Mrs. John Weade read several interesting letters from her son, Frank, who is stationed with the Coast Guard in Puerto Rico.

At the close of the all day meeting, souvenirs were presented to those attending.

The Missionary Society of Church of Christ Meets

The Women's Missionary Society of the Church of Christ had a very lovely meeting, Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Carl Meriweather and Miss Margaret Meriweather as hostesses for the occasion.

A most delicious picnic covered dish supper was enjoyed on the back lawn of the attractive home and numerous tables were set with vari-colored arrangements of garden flowers as centerpieces.

Following the supper hour, the business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Carson Maddux. Miss Margaret Gibson gave a very impressive devotional service and she was assisted by Mrs. Wilbur Kier and Mrs. Clifford Irwin.

Mrs. Maddux, president, then introduced Mrs. Bernice Duckwall, who attended the Adult Conference at Otterbein College of Westerville, recently. She gave a very interesting summary of the address by Dr. Paul, a missionary to China who had been interned by the Japanese in China and told also of his adventuresome release. Dr. Paul is now in the United States lecturing on the need of post-war work in China.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

TAKING X-RAYS, SHOOTING STARS IS FOGLE'S JOB

Dick Fogle Gives Movie
Star Hypo at Naval Air Station

"Take a posterior, anterior and lateral picture of the patient's little toe and let me see it when you finish," was one of the orders given to Pharmacist's Mate Richard Fogle at his post at a Naval air station on the Pacific coast recently, he wrote to his father, George Fogle. Before entering the Navy, he was employed at Finley's drug store and attended Ohio State University.

Of the "patient's little toe," Fogle wrote: "The patient had a clear fracture so we splinted it and sent him to the ward for about a week." He added that these X-ray pictures were the first that he had taken and developed himself.

Fogle also related that Buddy Rogers was recently a patient in the ward which he services. Fogle was delegated to give Rogers a hypodermic and later on, Mary Pickford, Rogers' present wife, called Fogle to see how her husband was getting along.

"I don't wish anybody any bad luck, but it wouldn't be a disagreeable task to advise Betty Grable if anything happened to her husband, Harry James," Fogle commented.

"Tonight another pharmacist's mate and I are on duty here at the office. We have a radio in the big, new modern office and are the only ones on duty except the fellows in the ward and the two in the ambulance down on the field," the letter continued.

"On certain nights I go and sit in the ambulance down on the field from nine to 11 with another pharmacist's mate because flying is most dangerous then. We see planes of all types coming in from everywhere. There are fighters, bombers—everything with wings on it. We have only seen one crash thus far and it just bent up the props a little. We helped the pilot out though he wasn't hurt a bit. We would have been ready for him if he had been injured. Those first aid kits in the ambulance have everything in them and there certainly is a lot to know about all the medicines, instruments that compose these kits."

"Another time I went down to the lab and made a smear on a slide of some spinal fluid that the doctor took from a fellow who was suspected of having meningitis. It turned out negative, however, but the experience gave me a great thrill: putting the smear on the slide, staining it and using the expensive microscope in the lab to look for bacteria."

"There's a dance hall near by and I'm dancing more than I ever did in my life. I danced 24 dances one night and with a different girl each time. The bands are often from Hollywood and their music is swell."

HENRY ALDRICH AND COMPANY as portrayed by Jimmy Lydon, Charles Smith and Mimi Chandler (shown above) in Paramount's latest and funniest Aldrich adventure, "Henry Aldrich Swings It," due next Sunday at the State Theatre. Henry leads a swing band which, in turn, leads him into a heap of trouble. Both sweet and hot music enliven proceedings still further. Also on the same program.

ACTION IN ALASKA! A tense scene from Paramount's thrill-packed adventure, "Alaska Highway," coming Sunday to the State Theatre, as Harry Shannon separates Richard Arlen and Bill Henry. Arlen and Henry are seen as brothers in love with the same girl, Jean Parker. Shannon has the role of their father. The story is set against the construction of the great Alaska Highway, built to stop the Japs, and reports have it that it is exciting stuff.

POINT VALUES ARE RAISED ON 21 FOOD ITEMS

Survey Shows Stocks of Many Dwindling and Demand Exceeding Supplies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration (OPA) today ordered the blue-stamp ration value of four types of canned fruit boosted, effective Sunday, in an attempt to slow down shoppers' demands.

The agency made point changes in 21 food items—13 up and eight down—as the result of a survey of the demand and available supplies of canned and processed foods. All the changes go into effect Sunday.

Canned fruits—especially cranberries, peaches, apples and pears—have been going off dealers' shelves too rapidly, OPA said, and "new packs of these items are running below the figures of a year ago."

It fixed the ration value of No. 2 (large) size canned apples at 10 points, an increase of three; 16 oz. cranberries at 10 points, an increase of three; 16 oz. peaches at 10 points, up two; No. 2½ peaches at 27 points, up four; and No. 2½ pears at 21 points, up six.

Point values were raised for canned and bottled beans, pumpkin and squash. Other types of canned beans—fresh shelled, green or wax and fresh soybeans—were reduced, probably because fresh vegetables now are in demand.

Frozen fruits and vegetables went up and, OPA said, "the supply is still far below the buying demand."

Dried beans, peas or lentils were cut "because of increased production and a corresponding increase in the allocation to civilians." The group was reduced from four to two points per pound for dried beans and to one point a pound for dried peas or lentils. Dried soybeans and black eyed peas are ration-free.

Following are the new ration values (all effective Sunday):

Canned or bottled foods:

Fruits—No. 2 apples, 10 points; 16 oz. cranberries, 10 points; No. 2½ peaches, 27 points; No. 2½ pears, 21 points.

Vegetables—No. 2 fresh shelled beans (including black-eye peas) 10 points; No. 2 green or wax beans, 10 points; No. 2 fresh soybeans, 5 points; No. 2 canned and bottled beans (baked beans, pork and beans, kidney beans etc.) 18 points.

No. 2 beets 8 points; No. 2 carrots 8 points; No. 2½ pumpkin or squash, 21 points; No. 2½ tomatoes, 21 points.

Frozen foods:

One pound all fruits and berries, 12 points; 12 ounces green or wax beans, 9 points; 12 ounces lima beans, 9 points; 10 ounces cut corn, 9 points; 12 ounces peas, 9 points; 14 ounces spinach, 12 points.

Dried foods:

One pound prunes, raisins and currants, 4 points; one pound beans, 2 points; one pound peas and lentils, 1 point.

WEDNESDAY WAS ONE OF HOTTEST

Mercury Hits 94 Degrees And Is Followed by Light Rains

September was ushered in by one of the hottest days of the entire season, with the mercury registering 94 degrees during the afternoon and at no time did it reach lower than 63 degrees during Wednesday night. The mercury was at 75 at 9 P. M. Wednesday.

Thursday morning was much cooler, however, with an official registration of 61 degrees at 8 A. M. A year ago 85 and 55 were the extremes.

Light electrical showers occurred during Wednesday night over this immediate vicinity, but in some areas the storms were more violent and the rainfall was heavy.

The showers came at a time when really needed and the cooler weather is a welcome relief from the recent torridity.

JAMES C. HARLEY DIES IN COLUMBUS HOSPITAL

James C. Harley, 47, formerly of this city, but who had resided at 420 Buttes Ave., for some time, died Tuesday in Grant Hospital, as result of peritonitis.

NEGRO FUGITIVE IS FROM ALABAMA

Man Who Stole Clothing Going Back 'Home'

Willie Thomas, Alabama-Negro who stole a leather jacket from an automobile here and was arrested by the police several weeks ago, is expected to be on his way back to a prison camp in Alabama by late Thursday, in custody of an officer who left Montgomery, Alabama, Tuesday night to take charge of the man.

After Thomas was arrested, Captain Jess Ellis questioned him, and asked about his registration card. His answers were not satisfactory, so the FBI authorities were notified and a check-up showed that Thomas had escaped from a prison camp in Alabama many weeks ago, after having served seven months of a four year term.

As soon as the Alabama authorities learned of him being held here, they took prompt action to insure his return to the prison.

ROADSIDE PARK CONSTRUCTION NEAR ITS END

Rock Bridge Park To Be Dedicated by American Legion

A formal dedication will be held for the Rock Bridge Roadside park which is now nearly complete, it was learned today. The park was constructed largely through the efforts of the Paul H. Hughey American Legion Post here.

The dedication, according to Jesse Maddux, chairman of the American Legion committee in charge of planning the ceremony, will be open to the public. No date has been set for the dedication.

An easement was obtained from Mrs. Nancy Hoppes through her agent, Samuel Hoppes, by the county commissioners with the cooperation of the American Legion committee, headed by Jesse Maddux. The easement authorizes the building of the roadside park on the three acre strip of land which lies between the road and Paint Creek at Rock Bridge.

The land is thickly wooded with locust, walnut and sycamore trees. Three picnic tables, an out-door furnace and toilets have already been erected, and a 110 foot well has been drilled, although it is not producing water yet. County Engineer Willis pointed out that in order to comply with state health department regulations, the well water must be chlorinated and capped for several days before it can be used for drinking purposes. The well has been capped and a pump without a handle has been put over it, he said to prevent anyone pumping the water and drinking it while the chlorine is in it.

The water must be tested by the state health department before it can be sanctioned for picnickers' consumption, Willis said, adding that all tests would be complete in 10 days. "By then there will be plenty of pure water," he declared.

FAYETTE COUNTY SERVICEMEN ARE ABLE TO VOTE

System Here Eliminates 'Red Tape' Involved in Absent Voting

Fayette County members of the armed forces, living in "non-registration" areas, may send their registration cards to the board of elections here and application blanks for ballots will be immediately forwarded to them.

Robert Meriweather, clerk of the board here, announced today. "I don't anticipate a great many of these applications though," he said, adding that the elections to be held this fall for city, village, township and board of education offices will not be of as great interest as state or national races. The procedure he outlined will save time and aid the members of the armed forces to cast their votes in the coming elections. It is the wish of Ohio Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel that every board of elections in the state give the armed forces the opportunity to vote without delay and without red tape. Some nominating petitions have not been filed for some of the offices, Meriweather said. The deadline for filing petitions is September 3.

259 WOMEN AIR RAID WARDENS ARE BONDADIERS

To Make House-to-house Canvass During Third War Loan Drive

Approximately 259 women air raid wardens here will co-operate in the Third War Loan drive slated to begin September 9. The number represents two-thirds of the women wardens in Washington C. H., said Mrs. Martha Reiff, vice-chairman in charge of women's activities of the Fayette County War Finance Committee. Because bank purchases will not count towards county quotas in the September drive, success depends upon individual purchases by patriotic citizens through an intensive house-to-house campaign. The Fayette County quota is $1,018,000.

So that every citizen will be contacted personally, the U. S. Treasury has stated that a volunteer army of 34,160 bondadiers will be needed for the 22 counties in the third Ohio area, which comprises the southern part of the state. Those bondadiers will sell war bonds from house to house during the drive.

Because an army of 34,160 cannot be enlisted and organized in a short period of time, the Treasury has requested that the Civilian Defense Corps provide air raid wardens for the house-to-house bond-selling campaign.

The air raid wardens are co-operating splendidly, according to John J. Rowe, Area Chairman of the War Finance Committee, who said: "With the Axis nations unable to defend even their own lands from bombing, there is only the slightest chance that our enemies will send a bombing expedition over Southern Ohio. The air raid wardens can render specific and essential aid to their country by selling war bonds during the Third War Loan."

Three sectional radio broadcasts will inaugurate the house-to-house selling campaign so vital for the success of the Third War Loan.

Saturday, Sept. 4, from 4:15 to 4:30 P. M. over station WLW, John J. Rowe, Area War Finance Chairman, will give an inspirational talk addressed to both war bond purchasers and bondadiers. Rowe will stress the necessity to back the attack by buying extra war bonds during the September drive.

There will be a bond quiz Tuesday, Sept. 7 from 8:30 to 9 P. M. over station WKRC. Charlton Wallace, Area Publicity Chairman, will act as quiz-master and attempt to stump other War Finance Executives. Wallace will ask questions most frequently posed by purchasers of war bonds and all bondadiers are especially urged to listen so that they will know the answers when the drive starts.

CENTER PLANNED FOR RECREATION IN DAYTON AREA

Center Aimed To Bring
Relief of Housing
Situation

Construction work will begin soon on a $76,000 recreation building at Fairfield-Osborn in Greene County, northeast of Dayton where the problem of overcrowding has become acute. Downing E. Proctor, regional recreation representative of the U. S. Community War Service, announced today. The large number of people here who are working at Wright and Patterson Fields may possibly be able to take advantage of this huge recreational project when it is finished.

Some contracts have not been renewed in the Dayton area because of the lack of sufficient housing, it is reported.

Proctor said Fairfield-Osborn has been one of the hardest hit communities in the Ohio-Michigan-Kentucky region, with the sudden and overwhelming influx of war workers and service men at Patterson and Wright Fields, with a heavy demand upon the community for housing, food, entertainment and other facilities.

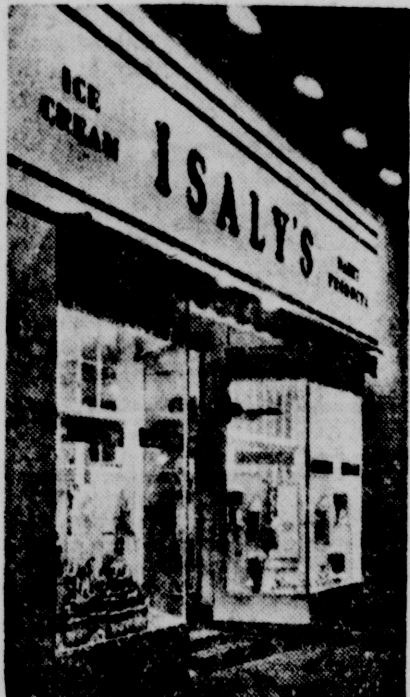

Aid from the Community War Services—then the Office of Defense Health and Welfare—was sought about a year ago, and a representative of that organization gave his guidance in the formation of civic groups to solve the problems arising out of the congestion.

Proctor pointed out that provision of recreation facilities is a very effective start in the solution of many of these problems, which involve child care, delinquency, health protection and hospitalization.

The new recreation center will provide a meeting place for civic groups to discuss their problems and work out solutions. It will have a social hall 78 feet wide and 120 feet long, a stage, four club rooms, kitchen, snack bar and office.

One recreation building such as this has been erected in Newton Falls and another renovated for recreation purposes at Ravenna, Ohio.

Community War Services, operated by the Federal Security Agency, has helped set up 2,700 recreation programs in the United States where a similar need existed; 1,300 locally operated under CWS direction and 1,400 operated by the USO. It has helped construct, renovate or rent 285 buildings for recreation.

Three-Team Squad Is Assured Blue Lions; First Call Answered By 26 Hopefuls

The Blue Lions of WHS today are getting ready to roar again, after a summer of more-or-less idleness.

Uniforms were handed out to 26 boys at the opening meeting and about 15 more, unable to answer the first call because of legitimate reasons, are expected to turn out at the practice field within the next few days. Thus, the coaches virtually are assured at least a three-team squad.

To start the boys off this year, a meeting was held in the high school building Wednesday and the team members were given the rules and regulations they are to follow during the season.

The Lions are starting their fall practice later this year because of their spring practice, which, by the way, was one of the few conducted throughout the state. The schools that did not have spring practice started on August 20.

"Due to war conditions" many teams in the country will not continue football for the duration, but we at WHS felt it a necessary part of this school, and I urge every boy to stick to his position on the football team as he'd stick to his gun on the battlefield, for until you are old enough here is where you belong," Coach Jerry Kissell told the gathering.

Here is the football practice schedule that was handed out to the members of the team. Sept. 2, Thursday, 8:30 A.M. and 6:30 P. M.; Sept. 3, Friday, 8:30 A.M. and 6:30 P. M.; Sept. 4, Saturday, 8:30 A.M.; Sept. 6, Monday, 8:30 A.M. and Sept. 7, Tuesday, 2 P. M. After school starts, practices will be held right after school at Gardner Park.

Here are the rules and regulations for the Blue Lions this season:

A-Conditions necessary to win a letter (1) Must participate in 1-2 of quarters (18 quarters in 1943) and reserve games do not count in number of quarters and (2) Must be a member of squad at the close of the season.

B-Attendance at practice. (1) If impossible to attend practice, see head coach before you miss, not after.

C-Training Rules. (1) No smoking or drinking of alcoholic beverages (including vacations) and violation means suspension from the team. (2) Eat-

Closing Drive Topsy-Turvy Over Disputed Ball Games

By JUDSON BAILEY (By the Associated Press)

The business of picking up games in the National League at a given point and playing them to completion at later dates still is causing headaches for the figure filberts.

The senior circuit has had four contests in this category, two of them protested games involving the Phillies and two others suspended games which were halted because of Sunday curfew laws in Boston and Pittsburgh July 18.

The protested games were entered in the standings at the time they were played, but when League President Ford Frick ordered the contests resumed later from the point of argument, the Phillies won the game they had been charged with losing to the St. Louis Cardinals and lost the game they had been credited with winning from the New York Giants.

This called for corrections in the standings. The suspended games were not included in the standings at the time, but one of them was finished yesterday and, as it turned out, it might just as well be counted a legal game at the time it was recessed.

This contest was the second game of a doubleheader between the Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates which was halted after several innings with the Redbirds leading 6-5. When the two full frames were run off neither team made a move and the July 18 score became the Sept. 1 score.

What did happen was that Rip Sewell of the Pirates, who had entered the contest in the seventh inning in a relief role and returned to the mound to complete the game, was charged with his seventh defeat against 19 victories. This now raises the question of whether Sewell had an 11-game winning streak in July, or whether it was broken at seven games on July 18.

Manager Billy Southworth, instead of resuming the game with George Munger, who was on the mound for the Cards when play stopped, used Mort Cooper to

Reds Beaten By Cubs and Hopes Fade

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—(P)—The Reds are almost back where they were last week despite all that winning over first place St. Louis Cardinals.

Their loss yesterday to the Chicago Cubs in a fuzzy 10-inning game, 12-9, coupled with the Cards' double win over the Pittsburgh Pirates, made the Reds 12 games behind, and time is getting short. Elmer Riddle may be able to do something about it today if he can outpitch Hiram Bithorn of the Cubs.

All of importance and interest in yesterday's game was in the 10th, when Phil Cavaretta caught one of Clyde Shoun's best pitches and sent it over the centerfield wall, scoring two men ahead of him.

That hit, the 22nd of the day for the Cubs, broke Shoun's string of seven straight relief victories. He had come in just to pitch the 10th after Ray Starr, Ed Heusser, and Joe Beggs failed to hold the Cubs.

The Reds got in the ball game in the ninth, when all looked dark by the score of 9-6, on a walk, a balk, and a double by Max Marshall, followed by old Estel Crabtree's home run. But Shoun, for the first time in weeks, couldn't save the day.

The Reds trailed by six runs after five and a half innings, but managed to score spasmodically in the late innings to come within shooting distance.

Bert Haas also hit a home run, tapping Claude Passeau in the first inning with Lonnie Frey on base.

Lon Warneke, who pitched only one and a third innings, got credit for the game.

Brews Back At AA Top; Birds Beaten

(By the Associated Press)

Milwaukee's Brewers broke a five-game losing streak last night and found themselves right back in first place in the tight American Association pennant fight.

The Brewers, however, drew a timely assist from fifth place Louisville. The Colonels rallied for three runs in the ninth inning to overpower Columbus, 6-4, which only Tuesday had taken over the pace setting role.

Columbus' defeat dropped it to third place behind Indianapolis, winner of an 11-8 slugfest with Toledo, but the Redbirds still were within a half game of first.

Milwaukee's 8-6 triumph came at the expense of Minneapolis. St. Paul moved into seventh place ahead of Kansas City by defeating the Blues, 5-1.

Double Bill Sunday at Sabina Park

Another doubleheader has been lined up for Sunday for the Sabina baseball fans by Tobe Wical, the boss of the home town boys.

A preliminary game has been arranged between the Sabina second stringers and a team from Blanchester. It is slated to start at 1:30 P. M. and the other, the featured game will get under way at 3:30 P. M. with the Sabina boys and Buckeyes from Columbus.

The Buckeyes, who Wical says have piled up a good record against some of the best central Ohio semi-pros this summer, are managed by William (Kid) Smith, a former Sabina and colored boxer.

Luttrell will take the mound for the Sabina team with Page behind the plate.

Junior Baseball Series Balked by Rain - Teams Tied

MILES CITY, Mont., Sept. 2.—(P)—Minneapolis and Springfield, Ohio, will square off again for the final of the American Legion Junior Baseball World series after having been driven off the field last night by weather.

The game will be played this afternoon or tonight, depending on the decision of Tournament Director Homer Chaillaux.

Each team scored a run in the three innings played last night.

The Richfields of Minneapolis have defeated Springfield, 9-5, in the double elimination tournament. Minneapolis also was defeated once. Six teams, winners of sectional playoffs, started after the Junior Championship last week.

GASOLINE BOOTLEGGERS TO FACE NEW OBSTACLES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(P)—The Office of Price Administration (OPA) intends to put serial numbers on gasoline ration stamps to trap bootleggers of stolen coupons.

The new system, an OPA official said today, probably will be set up early next year. Meanwhile, central issuance stations will be established in major cities to speed delivery of extra rations to essential drivers.

WORKERS AT API TO HAVE PICNIC HERE ON SUNDAY

4,000 Expected To Turn Out For Big Celebration At Fairground

Four thousand men, women and children are expected to attend the all day picnic at the Fairgrounds Sunday which is under the joint sponsorship of the UAW-CIO and Aeronautical Products Incorporated. Beginning at 9 A. M. the picnic is held for the workers at API and their families and will provide a "full day's entertainment," Charles Duntun, personnel director at API, announced today.

Athletic contests will take place in the morning and in the afternoon amateur contests will be held. The Hoosier Corn Huskers, who appear over station WOWO at Ft. Wayne, Indiana, will put on two shows in the afternoon at 2:30 and 5:30. Prizes for the various contests have been donated by merchants here. Candy for the children and free soft drinks for everyone will be provided by the API during the day. Dinner will be at noon in family groups.

The general committee in charge of arrangements is Sigel Mossbarger, Lawrence Pollard, Ervin Beakman, Miss Eula Mae Landon, Mrs. Emerson Chapman, Miss Evelyn Hamilton, Charles Gordon, Donald Hidy, Hoyt Sharp, Robert Wical, Kenneth Mickle and Charles Duntun. Sub-committees in charge of entertainment, drinks, athletic contests, amateur contests, attendance, and publicity were also appointed.

The athletic contests include father and son race, an egg race for women, a fat man's race and a fat woman's race, softball throwing contests for men and women, a mixed wheelbarrow race, a woman's rolling pin throwing contest, a bicycle race for those under 16 and another for those over 16, a shoe race for children, a 100 yard dash for those under 12, a 100 yard dash for men, rod and reel casting contests for accuracy and distance (four ounce), an archery contest, a field contest for coon dogs and a 22 rifle match at 100 yards.

The races will be run in the quarter stretch of the race track before the grandstand.

Amateur contests include a harmonica contest, an old fiddler's contest, singing (solo, duet trio and quartet), best musical or stunt novelty act, a hog calling contest and a husband calling contest, quiz, tap, dancing and watermelon eating contests and the best novelty act and animal imitations.

Bingo games are to be held in the Eagle's building also. A loud-speaker system has been arranged for the Hoosier Corn Huskers' performances. The picnic is expected to last until about 6 P. M.

BAR ASSOCIATION MEETS THURSDAY

Close Offices Thursday Afternoons in September

At a meeting of the Fayette County Bar Association, held in the Common Pleas Court Room Thursday forenoon, decision was reached to continue the Thursday afternoon closing of law offices during the month of September.

This will probably mean that some of the Court House offices will continue Thursday afternoon closed during the month.

The Bar also named a committee headed by Troy T. Junk to arrange plans for a picnic to be held later this fall, probably in the back lawn of Judge H. M. Rankin's home on East Street.

CREW OF YANK BOMBER GETS SEVEN JAP PLANES SHOOTING MEN IN 'CHUTES

on us at 4,000 feet. We went down to 200 feet and dropped a life raft to the men who had jumped from the other bomber. The Zeros made a coordinated attack, using as many as six coming at us at the same time.

"We would have been shot down if it hadn't been that our gunners were good marksmen."

"When we got home, there were more than 80 bullet holes and several cannon holes in the fuselage."

But Faucett's Liberator had bagged seven out of the 20 parachute attacking Zeros.

His gunners who downed the Zeros included Sgt. Flory R. Szmania, 27, flight engineer, of Elyria, O., credited with one Zero and part of another; Sgt. Ray McDonough, 24, of Grand River, O., one Zero and part of another, and Sgt. Roy A. Fitzgerald, 25, of Wheeling, W. Va., one Zero.

RESTAURANTS OF COUNTY ARE ALL INSPECTED

Grade B Used for First Time Here—13 Placed In This Class

For the first time this year, Grade B cards have been issued to restaurants in Fayette County, it was announced by the Board of Health. All restaurants must display the cards which designate their grade, it was emphasized. There are 13 Grade B restaurants in the county.

Although there are restaurant grades of C and D, no restaurants in the county fall within these categories. There are 24 Grade A establishments.

All restaurants are inspected semi-annually and graded on 16 points, similar to the basis on which milk is graded. Points considered include floors, walls and ceilings, doors and windows, lighting, ventilation, toilet facilities, water supply, lavatory facilities, construction, cleaning, bactericidal treatment, storage and handling of utensils and equipment, disposal of wastes, refrigeration, wholesomeness of food and drink, storage and display of food and drink, cleanliness of employees and miscellaneous points such as whether or not restaurant premises are kept neat and clean, operations are carried on in living or sleeping rooms, clean lockers for employees' clothing are maintained and whether containers for soiled linens are provided.

A monthly inspection of sterilizing solution in restaurants where sterilizing is not done by heat is also made to see whether solutions used maintain effective strength.

A public notice containing the names of Grade A restaurants is issued by the Board of Health.

R. M. WINEGARDNER IS APPEALS AGENT

Added To Draft Board by Governor Bricker

Following the recent resignation of Attorney N. P. Clyburn as government appeals agent of the Fayette County Selective Service Board, Attorney R. M. Winegardner has been named to the position and starts his work this week.

The appointment is made by Governor John W. Bricker. Winegardner is the third Appeals Agent named for this county, Attorney W. S. Paxson being the first named, and resigned after legislative duties took so much of his time. Attorney Clyburn was then named and had served up to the present time.

ON FIRST VACATION IN QUARTER CENTURY

George H. Worrell Closes Offices Until Sept. 7

For the first time in 25 years, George H. Worrell is taking a vacation and his office on North Fayette Street, where he practices optometry and weighs justice as a justice of the peace, is closed, not to be opened again until September 7.

In that quarter of a century, his career has been full of activity and variety. A jeweler and watchmaker here for years, he studied optometry and entered the profession at a time when most men have long since given up thoughts of new fields of endeavor. Then politics and he was elected mayor first and later justice of the peace.

For the past several years he has dispensed justice and fitted glasses almost exclusively.

WELL ON ROADSIDE PARK IS AN ARTESIAN

Harry Parrett, who drilled the 110 foot well on the county's new roadside park at Rock Bridge, said Thursday that the well is really an artesian, or flowing one. The water stands in the pipe slightly above the surface of the ground, but the casing prevents it flowing and wasting water.

Pvt. Albert R. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, who recently was inducted into the army at Ft. Hayes, Columbus, is now stationed at Camp Swift, Texas.

Word has been received by Mrs. Tom B. Varlas that her son, Pvt. Peter Varas, of the air corps has been transferred from Camp Ripley, Minn., to Santa Maria, California.

Pvt. Peter Varlas, of the air corps turned to Camp Wilmington, Calif. after spending a 15-day furlough with his wife and daughter at their home on the Carolyn road. He also visited with his parents, friends and other relatives.

Petty Officer Fred Coil, USCG, visited recently with Mrs. Sol Smith and his sister, Gladys, of near Milledgeville. He graduated from Jeffersonville High School and has been in the coast guard since May, 1942.

Jack Hagerty, Petty Officer third class, who is stationed in the Hospital Corps, at Great Lakes, Ill., recently spent a short leave with his wife at their home here.

CONCORD TOWNSHIP TO BALLOT ON BEER

Concord township in Ross County will vote on local option measure to prohibit sale of beer, at the November election.

A petition bearing 279 names has been presented and the election called accordingly.

Frankfort corporation, by a previous vote, is dry and the new move is to vote dry the territory surrounding the town.

YOU MAY BE 'SINGLE' THOUGH MARRIED

Three Income Tax Rules for 'Single' Persons

Even though you are married, you may be considered single under the regulations for filing declarations of estimated income for the year 1944. A "single" person is defined as a person who is: 1, single; 2, married but not living with husband or wife at date prescribed for filing of declaration, whether or not the person is classed as the head of a family.

There are three general rules applicable to "single" persons and if anyone comes within either one of these rules, filing of a declaration will be required on September 15.

If you are "single" as defined above, you will have to file a declaration if you had in 1942 or expect to have in 1943, a gross income of $2700 or more from wages which are subject to withholding tax, or if you are "single" you are required to file if you had for 1942 or expect to have for 1943, income of $100 or more from any source not subject to withholding tax provided your total income is $500 or more.

Income from "sources not subject to withholding" would include agricultural wages, interest, rents, royalties, dividends and the like, income from business and gains from sale or exchange of property.

If you are "single" you are also required to file a declaration if you were required to file an Income Tax Return for 1942, and your wages subject to withholding for 1943 are reasonably expected to be less than such wages for 1942.

REGISTER 249 MOTOR TITLES IN AUGUST

During the month of August there were 249 titles to motor vehicles registered at the office of the Clerk of Courts, where Mrs. Mary Louise Groff is in charge of the registration.

Of the total number of titles, all were used vehicles except two titles for new automobiles and two new trucks.

BATTERED NAZI ARMIES BEING CHASED BY REDS OUT OF DONETS BASIN

(Continued from Page One) edging the withdrawal, said the Russians were building up an overwhelming striking force on the middle stretches of the Donets River, and this suggested that the Nazis were preparing to abandon the industrial city of Stalino, 65 miles northwest of Taganrog.

Farther north, dispatches said the Red armies were girding for a final powerhouse assault on Smolensk, German keystone fortress 230 miles west of Moscow, and were also battering deeper into Nazi defenses around Bryansk.

In the western air war, the RAF's giant bombers apparently gave the German home front a respite after Tuesday night's shattering assault on Berlin.

Swedish correspondents in Berlin said the Germans sent up nearly 1,400 night fighters in an attempt to ward off the RAF block-buster raids Tuesday, but the Germans themselves admitted that about 350 planes broke through the capital's defenses.

A Swedish dispatch passed through Nazi censorship said the damage was "heavy both inside Berlin and on the outskirts," and reports reaching Stockholm said about 500,000 residents of Berlin had fled the city for the duration of the "bomb war."

Pincers Put on Japs

In the Southwest Pacific, the coastal jaw of a slowly closing Allied pincers pressed nearer the Salamaua, New Guinea, air-drome from the southeast today as Japanese defenses cracked.

A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur characterized the enemy's crumbling resistance as "rearguard," an indication that the Japanese are giving way.

Latest reports indicate the Americans have skirted enemy pillboxes and foxholes and assigned another force to eliminate the virtually surrounded Japanese below the air-drome and the Francisco river mouth.

Out of the mountains and along the south bank of the Francisco River, hard bitten Australians have reached a point within two miles, possibly less, of the river's mouth.

North of the river, considerable activity indicated that the Japanese, after the first shock of finding the Allies driving in from above as well as below the air-drome, now are making a determined effort to hold positions.

In the Solomons, there was some basis for believing the Japanese have evacuated Santa Isabel Island, with its seaplane base at Rekata Bay. Liberator pilots returning from a raid Monday reported that for the first time no anti-aircraft fire was encountered.

Santa Isabel has been outflanked by American occupation of both New Georgia and Vella Lavella islands. But there was no indication of Japanese intention to yield Kolombangara, now sandwiched between those two occupational forces.

The Americans opened fire with heavy artillery today for the first time in the process of softening up southern Kolombangara Island for capture.

150 QUARTS CANNED BY MADISON MILLS

Corn, Vegetable Soup, and Tomatoes Canned

Corn, vegetable soup mixture, and tomatoes—150 quarts in all, were canned Wednesday afternoon by the Madison Mills canning committee at the school building there.

Vegetables for the canning were donated by the families of Ralph Hays, Will Hopkins, Thurman Ruth, Arthur Schlechter, Lowell Engle, John Gibeaut and Forrest Fry.

"We really appreciated their help and the help of the women on the canning committee," said Mrs. Walter Harris, chairman of the committee. Other committee members are Mrs. Wayne Shobe, Mrs. Ralph Hays, Mrs. Robert Allemang, Miss Madge Parrett, Mrs. John Gibeaut, Mrs. Howard Hopkins, Mrs. Leland Dorn, Mrs. Malcolm Dorn, Mrs. Grace Nance, Mrs. Henry Melvin, Mrs. Arthur Schlechter and Miss Mary Schlechter.

Mrs. Harris said that no definite date had been set for the next meeting of the committee for canning, but said that they would probably can tomatoes when they did meet.
